Top Gear star loses rag with ‘hoodies’

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

TOP Gear presenter Jeremy Clarkson has hit back at hoodies in Milton Keynes after he was harassed by a gang in the city centre.

Mr Clarkson took his daughter to the Xscape building to celebrate her birthday at Snozone, the indoor ski slope.

But when he went outside the building for a cigarette, he attracted the attention of a gang of youths who recognised his face from television.

Mistakenly thinking they were fans of his popular motoring show, he was surprised when they asked him if he had any ‘security’.

When he asked them to leave him alone and walked away the group continued to pester him.

He snapped, grabbing the ringleader by his hoodie, lifting him off the ground and shouting at him to go away.

But the gang began filming the incident, which took place on November 23, using cameras on their mobile phones and Mr Clarkson put him back down.

The youths ran away and one, a 14-year-old girl, called the police, alleging that a man had been abusive towards her friend.

Officers arrived on the scene at 4.25pm and spoke to witnesses and security staff.

They discovered that the caller had been part of the gang, which had been warned about its behaviour by security earlier that day.

A police spokesman said: “Mobile phone images were viewed, as well as CCTV footage and it became apparent that, if any offence had occurred, it was the man who was the victim.”

Police officers visited Mr Clarkson’s home that evening but he said he did not want to make a complaint or provide a statement.

The presenter is one of the most recognised faces on the BBC.

In his Sunday Times column this week, Mr Clarkson described the area as one of the country’s ‘happy-slapping town centres’.

He said: “I was standing there holding this boy by the scruff of his neck, and instead of worrying about being stabbed I was actually thinking: ‘Jesus, I’m going to get done for assault if I’m not careful’.

“Plainly this boy’s parents are useless, allowing him to be out and about on the streets, harassing passers-by at will.”

Mr Clarkson was unavailable to comment yesterday.

City MP prompted school build report

THE leader of MK Council has commissioned a further review of the council's school build programme.

Last week a damning report was published, highlighting massive flaws in the programme.

Council management was heavily criticised after pupils at Giles Brook in Tattenhoe were put at serious risk because the council ignored complaints about the building's defects.

Now council leader Isobel McCall has arranged for an independent review focusing primarily on senior management practices and corporate systems employed with regard to the school build programme.

A meeting of the council's special audit committee is taking place today.

The report had been prompted by an unnamed resident. That resident was in fact city MP Phyllis Starkey.

She said: "From 2004 I have been in contact with the council in a very forceful manner, and in the highest manner, over this issue.

"I relayed all this, I cannot describe how forcefully, directly to the chief executive of the council.

"The report just vindicated what everyone – the headteachers, governors and myself, were saying."

Last year Giles Brook was forced to close after the ceiling threatened to cave in. Repairs cost £3million but the school only cost £2.9million to build.

A council spokesman said: "Our group director for school improvement and senior council staff were in frequent contact with the headteacher and the school governors. The chief executive has now taken a more personal role following the findings of the recent internal audit report into our school build programme.

"We are aware that our chief executive has had a number of discussions on these issues over many months with Dr Phyllis Starkey. On these occasions he has taken action internally to help resolve the points helpfully raised by Dr Starkey."

Big screen debut for 'Santa' baby

Ho! Santa baby: Young screen star Mason Minas

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

A BABY from Milton Keynes is starring as Santa Claus in the latest Christmas blockbuster to hit the big screen.

Mason Minas was five-months-old when he was handed the part of baby Santa in the family film Fred Claus, released across cinemas nationwide last week.

The talented tot stars in the opening scene and proud parents Andreas and Lucy, from Monkston, went to see the film on Friday.

Andreas, 32, said: "It was amazing to see my son in it. My wife was overwhelmed – she grabbed my hand and nearly broke my fingers she was so excited."

The film is a tale about Santa Claus' older brother Fred Claus, played by comedian Vince Vaughn. It begins in a barn with Fred watching as his new baby brother Nicholas, played by Mason, is being born.

Producers used computer-generated imaging to give Mason a voice in the film, manipulating his lips to mouth baby Santa's first word: 'Ho!'.

Mason, now 19-months, landed the role after his parents signed him up to a filming agency when he was only a month old.

Dad Andreas said: "He's quite a funny little character and when the producers saw his photo on the website they wanted him."

The family had to apply for a special licence from Milton Keynes Council that covers child perfomers, who are restricted to 20 minutes of filming per hour.

Mason's mum took him down to Pinewood Studios in London for five hours of filming which included Mason being covered in 'goo' to recreate the birth.

Councillor launches city status petition on Number 10 website

A PETITION calling for city status has been launched on the Downing Street website.

The subject was a hot topic of conversation when the Queen visited Milton Keynes on Thursday and Cllr Sam Crooks was one of many who felt the event proved Milton Keynes is ready to become a city.

Cllr Crooks has created a web petition on the Number 10 website which allows people to support the bid.

The latest campaign for city status began when MK NEWS wrote an open letter to Her Majesty on behalf of the people of Milton Keynes calling on her to finally grant us city status.

A reply from Buckingham Palace said that grants of city status are only made following a national competition, usually to mark significant Royal anniversaries.

Cllr Crooks said: "The next competition is unlikely before 2012 but we've got to keep going for four years so that it will be unthinkable to turn us down again.

"Parts of the city are more than a thousand years old.

"We have a university, a football stadium, law courts, a main line station – what more does the Queen want?"

Cllr Crooks has set an intitial target of 10,000 signatures for the petition, which must be reached before it expires on November 28, 2008.

He said: "We missed out last time yet I saw Lisburn in Northern Ireland get it. That's where my parents lived – it's just a little country town but they fought for years and that's what we've got to do. I want the country to be as proud of Milton Keynes as all of us are who live here."

To sign the petition log on to http://petitions.pm.gov.uk/city-statusmk

MILTON KEYNES ROYAL VISIT 2007

Crowds await the arrival of the Queen and Prince Philip at Milton Keynes Railway Station

Queen of smiles

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

THURSDAY November 29, 2007 will be remembered by the people of Milton Keynes as the day the Queen came to visit.

In the biggest party ever to hit the city, children and adults alike were left smiling following Her Majesty's whirlwind tour.

His Royal Highness The Duke of Edinburgh arrived with Queen Elizabeth II by Virgin train just after 11am, before officially opening thehub:mk, stadiummk and the Nigel Mobbs St John Ambulance Centre in Greenleys.

MK Dons Chairman Pete Winkelman summed up the mood after the visit when he said: "It was a momentous day in the history of our city and the culmination of months of hard work.

"The welcome Her Majesty received was a true reflection of the incredible community spirit our new city has generated in its 40 years of existence."

The visit lasted just a couple of hours and began at platform three of Milton Keynes Central railway Living Archive to record local shops' demise?

SIR – I feel compelled to respond to what I feel are the blinkered views expressed by the chairman of Wolverton and Greenleys Town Council, Hilary Saunders, regarding the proposed expansion of Tesco in Wolverton.

She must be living in cloud cuckoo land if she thinks that people will come out of Tesco and 'pop into the local stores'.

Why would they feel the need to?

Human nature dictates that, having bought everything they want within the store, the only place they will 'pop to' is straight back to their cars, now conveniently parked below the store, and onwards to their homes.

It appears that, once again, promising improved custom-built premises for the community centre and Living Archive will prove too tempting for the town council to resist (this carrot was dangled before them once before allowing Tesco to obtain its first foothold in the town).

How ironic that, if Tesco does succeed with this proposal, the Living Archive will have been provided with a new facility in which to document the demise of our local shops.

Time for a change

SIR – We really do cop it here in MK don't we?

First the Government tells us that around £60m is being cut from the schools building programme while its creation and loyal servant the unelected, unaccountable quango English Partnerships forces thousands of new homes on us.

Labour is really thinking this through clearly! I wonder if the person with this brainwave was also in charge of party donations?

Secondly we see the report in MK NEWS last week about Lib Dem council's shambolic efforts in squandering the previously available cash in creating repair bills higher than the original cost, no wonder they are losing council seats so rapidly!

Our schools are at breaking point yet our two tiers of government seem only to excel in their incompetence providing no assistance whatsoever, clearly time for change.

Richard Gates
George Inn Place, Stoke Goldington.

Light relief

SIR – Stony Stratford has just enjoyed another successful (though cold) Christmas lights switch on day on Saturday and visitors from far and wide came to enjoy the day (including some enthusiasts of Keith Emmett's 89-key Gavioli fair organ which played in the High street all day).

As part of this event, St Mary & St Giles Church held a Christmas fair which raised money for both the church restoration fund and the church pipe organ fund.

I would like to thank everyone who helped in any way with the organ fund stall, we succeeded in raising £477.48 towards the £124,000 that we need.

On Sunday, December 9, Milton Keynes Youth Choir is singing for the organ fund in St Mary & St Giles Church at 7.30pm and on 15th December 15 church band, parish singers and handbell ringers are entertaining the shoppers in Middleton Hall for a couple of hours, also in aid of the fund.

Is our image of police seriously out of date?

Ron and Gerry Richardson from UK Smokers

SIR – This week's story of a Bletchley tobacconist being arrested after calling the police to an alleged incident involving a gang attack on a lone man caused me to wonder what sort of messages the police are sending out to law-abiding people.

While there is no excuse for being abusive to police officers, one can understand people's frustration when police don't respond to such incidents quickly enough or at all.

I would think that gang violence is fairly serious in the spectrum of crime.

In another case recently a pub landlord had to deal with drug dealers on his premises when police were unwilling or unable to respond.

The message I get is that we have a very selective police service in terms of how it chooses to respond to crime and a police service that would rather tackle soft targets than dangerous and potentially violent offenders.

I suspect that most of us who belong to an older generation were brought up to respect and support the police as a matter of course, but reports of this kind only serve to erode that respect and force us to wonder whether our image of the police service is seriously out of date.

Mike Saunders
Aylesbury Street, Wolverton

Sticks and stones

SIR – Our Labour MP, Phyllis Starkey, has been quick to lambast Milton Keynes Council's management of the school building programme.

While the Liberal Democrat administration does have serious questions to answer about its leadership and competence in this area, Labour are in no position to criticise.

When Labour last ran the council a few years ago, new schools were not built to keep pace with housing expansion.

Perhaps Labour should show a bit of humility and get their own act in order before hurling stones at their opponents.

Iain Stewart
Conservative Parliamentary Candidate, Milton Keynes South

Queen of smiles

SIR – I just wanted to write and say that I thought the show at the stadiummk to celebrate The Queen's visit to Milton Keynes was fantastic.

Milton Keynes should be very proud of what it was able to achieve that day. To see so many people, young and old, singing and dancing in celebration of Her Majesty and MK was a wondorous thing.

Everyone I saw in the stadium had a big smile on their face including The Queen herself.

I left the stadium that day not only proud to be British but also proud to be from Milton Keynes.

Hard knock life

SIR – Your front page artricle last week 'Schools a shambles' must have made hard reading for the council.

However, fair play to council leader Isobel McCall who appeared to take it on the chin when she was quoted as saying she was aware that there were some serious issues highlighted in the report but the council didn't quite realise how serious the issues were.

Let us hope she takes the lead in pushing through some immediate improvements to an area of her authority which is clearly struggling on many levels.

JOHN LEWIS

As part of our occasional series of columns featuring the city's great and the good we speak to John Lewis, English Partnerships' regional director for eastern England and Milton Keynes

2020 vision for city and eastern England

AS the Government's national regeneration agency, English Partnerships works with people and organisations across the country to help create new communities where people want to live and work.

I am English Partnerships' regional director for eastern England and Milton Keynes – a growing region that is facing a huge challenge to accommodate a share of the three million new homes needed by 2020.

To achieve this ambitious target needs careful planning if we are to ensure that growth means more than just building additional houses.

In order to create successful, thriving communities expansion must deliver a broad range of the essential services and infrastructure that make places where people are happy to live and proud to be a part of.

As a Milton Keynes resident for more than 10 years I really do understand what it means to be proud of our city.

IN its relatively short history, Milton Keynes has consistently delivered nationally recognised developments such as the theatre and gallery and the new stadium, together with vital local facilities such as play areas, community centres and parks which give us space to get out and enjoy where we live.

We are fortunate in Milton Keynes to have had the right services and infrastructure as the city develops and this ground-breaking approach continues today.

The Milton Keynes Infrastructure Tariff, pioneered by Milton Keynes Partnership, is leading the way in showing how towns and cities can expand successfully.

In Milton Keynes, the tariff has already seen millions of pounds invested in the hospital, new grid roads, upgrading of the roundabouts, road junctions and Central Milton Keynes railway station.

It has also provided a university building for the city centre.

> As a Milton Keynes resident for more than 10 years I really do understand what it means to be proud of our city. In its relatively short history, Milton Keynes has consistently delivered nationally recognised developments

THE pioneering approach to the tariff has caught the attention of Government and is now being explored as a way forward for other towns within the region and beyond.

Once again, Milton Keynes is leading the way in taking innovative approaches to ensure that a growing city can benefit all of its residents.

The Queen was able to visit some of the exceptional new developments within the city.

The visit was a fantastic way to round off the 40th year celebrations and a great opportunity to show just how proud we all are of this forward-looking city.

MILTON KEYNES ROYAL VISIT 2007

The Queen and Duke of Edinburgh watch the show at stadiummk

Queen took her seat in front of thousands of onlookers, to be entertained by local schoolchildren singing and dancing.

She unveiled a plaque to open stadiummk and was presented with a single red balloon by Paul Ince's daughter, Mia.

From there, the Royal Bentley took the party to Greenleys, where the Queen met with St John Ambulance members and officially opened the Nigel Mobbs Centre before departing for Stowe School.

Organisers hailed the visit as a great success and praised the work of businesses, schools and volunteers who made the day so memorable.

The Royal party is surrounded by the stadiummk show

Ruth Stone, director of the MK Council of Voluntary Organisations, guides the Queen around a selection of displays by local groups

Police delight at smooth operation

THE man in charge of the police operation to protect The Queen said he was delighted with the way the day went.

Superintendent Gez Chiariello said the day went smoothly after more than two months of preparation.

He said: "There was an awful lot of preparation as it involved so many different resources from so many departments.

"There was approximately 100 people involved from various departments including the mounted section, uniformed officers and a number of officers in plain clothes. We also made use of CCTV.

"At each venue officers were posted at static points, supported by marshals from the local authority and in the stadium employed by the club.

"Our aim was to protect the Queen and reassure the public while also keeping a fairly low profile to allow people to enjoy the day as it was a lovely occasion for Milton Keynes."

Dying man not seen by doctor for 20 hours

A HOSPITAL patient did not see a doctor for nearly 20 hours before dying from a perforated ulcer, an inquest has heard.

Stephen Bell, 59, a physical training instructor from Longcross, Pennylands died on April 29 at MK General Hospital.

Yesterday an inquest heard he was first admitted to the hospital on March 15 suffering from shortness of breath and coughing.

He had fluid drained from around his lungs and heart which saw some improvement, but later suffered from swelling of the legs, lower abdomen and possible renal problems.

He was transferred to the specialist renal unit at Churchill Hospital in Oxford on April 1 but was sent back to Milton Keynes on April 25. He was not seen by a doctor until 3.45pm on April 26.

Junior doctor, Catherine Bailey said: "I found Mr Bell's partner [Mrs Broadhurst] at the desk quite distressed, She said he was in a lot of pain, which was unusual for him and was a new symptom."

Dr Bailey said he had abdominal pain and she was extremely worried by his clinical state.

He had no access to intravenous therapy, though he was on this when he left Oxford.

"I was repeatedly asking for MK clerking and notes and when it became evident they did not exist it became clear he had not been seen," she added. "He was 19 hours 45 minutes without seeing doctor."

Mr Bell was taken to intensive care at 11.15pm.and died at 4.30am on April 29.

A hospital report found that the policy for transferring patients was not followed.

Consultant Dr Lanson-Miller, a medical director at the hospital, agreed there had been a communications failure but added: "I do not believe it would have made any difference if he had been checked the night before."

The inquest was set to continue today.

Win an Apple Mac laptop

A NEW service for technophobes will be launched this week in Milton Keynes.

John Lewis is now providing a free personal appointment service aimed at making technology available and easy to understand for everyone.

Over the past decade the world has become more dependant on technology – from digital photography to digital radio, wireless Internet to wireless communications, we are all increasingly logging in, whether it be for shopping, work or just keeping in touch with loved ones in other countries.

But how do you find out about all that is possibleand how do you catch up if all this change has passed you by?

Mel Thomas, department manager at the Milton Keynes store said: "For a number of years the pace of technological change has been getting faster and faster.

"At John Lewis we have always offered a free personal fashion, home or nursery advice service, but recently have been increasingly asked for advice about changing technology.

"We have decided to launch our latest type of appointment service. No matter what your level of understanding, you can now book a free, no obligation advice appointment where one of our trained and impartial members of staff will simply explain what it's all about.

"We always aim to offer a service that we are proud of, as well as solving peoples problems"

To mark the launch of its free Technology Advice Service MK NEWS has joined up with John Lewis to give away a fabulous Apple Mac laptop, worth £700, together with a free in-store advice appointment. All you have to do is answer the question in the competition box.

To book yourself a free Technology Advice appointment, call the Milton Keynes store on 01908 679171 and let John Lewis take the worry out of keeping up with the latest technology. Who knows you might even discover the joy of sending e-mail, downloading music, or ordering your groceries online!

Partnership committee chairman stands down

SIR Bob Reid is stepping down as chairman of the Milton Keynes Partnership Committee (MKPC).

The Scotsman will leave in March 2008, following four years in post.

Sir Bob said: "I have really enjoyed my time at MKPC and have found it particularly rewarding to get to know the Milton Keynes community, especially the young people.

"I now feel that the time is right to bow out to concentrate on my other interests at a time when, I hope, I leave MKPC in a healthy state and ready to face an exciting future."

The committee – which has planning powers to determine major applications within the expansion areas to the east, west and north of Milton Keynes – brings together the council, English Partnerships, representatives from the health, community and business sectors and independent representation.

Who will deal with your affairs and welfare if you can't? Don't lose your right to choose your Attorney by waiting until its too late.

From the 1st October 2007 the Enduring Power of Attorney (EPA) has been replaced with a revised type of power called a Lasting Power of Attorney (LPA). However, EPAs made prior to 1st October will continue to be valid.

The LPA has now replaced the EPA as one of the most important legal protection mechanisms for your future. Indeed having an LPA in place is just as important as making a Will because it affects you during your lifetime. The benefit of the LPA is that it will allow you and your family the certainty of knowing who will deal with your affairs and personal welfare if you become incapable of making decisions about these things yourself. Moreover, you will have the comfort of knowing that the Attorney dealing with your affairs is the person of your choice and not someone whom the Court chooses to appoint on your behalf.

Unlike the EPA, an LPA will need to be registered with the Court of Protection before it may be used by your attorney (s). A person can make two types of LPA.

A Property and Affairs Lasting Power of Attorney (LPA) allows you to plan ahead by choosing one or more people to make decisions on your behalf regarding your property and financial affairs.

You can appoint a property and affairs Attorney to manage your finances and property whilst you still have capacity as well as when you lack capacity. For example, it may be easier for you to give someone the power to carry out tasks such as paying your bills if you find it difficult to get about. Please note that the document has to be registered before it can be used.

A personal Welfare Lasting Power of Attorney allows you to plan ahead by choosing one or more people to make decisions on your behalf regarding your personal healthcare and welfare.

As you can see the protection offered by an LPA can be invaluable. Please contact us today to see how we can help.

A Dickens of a demo at civic offices

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

PARENTS involved in the controversial day nursery consultation are putting a spin on A Christmas Carol for a demonstration outside the Civic Offices.

Protesting mums and dads will dress up as characters from the famous Charles Dickens tale, in which they are casting Milton Keynes Council as Scrooge.

A Christmas Carol is a Victorian morality tale of an old and bitter man named Ebenezer Scrooge. He has devoted his life to financial gain but undergoes a transformation one Christmas Eve following a visit from three ghosts.

The demonstration - taking place this Saturday at 10.30am - is expected to attract scores of parents hoping to stop the consultation into the future of the day nurseries.

One of the options is to close the service all together.

The council - which runs eight day nurseries in Milton Keynes for children from three months to five-years-old - has sent out questionnaires and held consultation meetings, offering the service into the open market to be run by another provider or maintaining the current service but making changes to reduce costs.

Other suggestions are to develop a consortium to help manage the existing nurseries, or to have different management arrangement for groups of day nurseries such as through children's centres.

One parent said: "It is just so underhand. They are very obviously taking forward option three which is to privatise."

Parents say they have no faith in the consultation and are happy with the service as it is.

Labour MP Phyllis Starkey - who will attend the demonstration - was blasted by a councillor for causing unnecessary anxiety to parents over the consultation.

She said the consultation lacks vision or realistic options.

But Cllr Sandra Clark, cabinet member with responsibility for children, says the consultation is the result of Government advice.

She said: "The current parent consultation process is happening because the Government has advised that all council's should consider whether they should continue to deliver services for children.

"The consultation is to discover the views of parents and for recommendations on how nursery education could best be delivered in the future."

Dr Starkey said: "The council seems more interested in cutting costs and transferring provision to other sectors. At face value, the consultation does have a hint of privatisation by the back door.

An initial review took place last December after a council cock-up in May when parents using Wolverton Day Nursery were told it would close by October.

Letters were sent out to current and prospective parents telling them that the nursery was to merge with Rowan Day Nursery in Fullers Slade. ut following pressure from parents and MK NEWS, the council did a dramatic u-turn and vowed to keep the nursery open.

The consultation is happening as a result of the Childcare Act 2004 and the Childcare Act 2006.

Parents are setting up a petition against the consultation.

Deaf can 'hear' Badger's story

SHOPPERS who visit thecentre:mk's Wind in the Willows Christmas Show in Milton Keynes on Sunday will be able to see and hear the storytelling Badger's tales – in deaf signing.

The signing sessions will take place from 11am-12noon and again from 2-3pm.

For several years, thecentre:mk has provided Braille signs alongside each display to enable people with visual impairments to understand and enjoy all the scenes.

Last year pictorial aids were introduced alongside Braille signs.

Now deaf people will have the opportunity to enjoy the animatronic Badger's storytelling sessions.

Jackie Tracey, events manager for the Christmas show said: "With almost a million people visiting the show each week, our aim is for everyone to feel included and derive maximum enjoyment from the display.

"The badger keeps the crowds entertained every 20 minutes and it will be lovely to share his stories with all our customers."

Badger's storytelling will be signed on Sundays. below: Widgets for people with literacy or comprehension problems

Win cash by signing trash

Council plans a great takeaway giveaway with new yellow bins

A CAMPAIGN to purge the city streets of fast food litter that is a magnet for rats and other vermin is being launched.

Stash your Trash is one of the first schemes of its type in the UK and is being run by Milton Keynes Council's Safer Communities Unit as an innovative way to highlight to the public the need to dispose of their take away food litter responsibly.

Dedicated yellow takeaway food litter bins will be located around the city at key locations, such as at The Centre MK, Midsummer Place, Xscape.

The public will be invited when disposing of their fast food packaging in the yellow bins to put their contact details on their food wrappings and containers to have a chance of winning the prize draw.

The campaign will run for two weeks from Monday, December 10 until the Friday December 21 and each week food related litter will be collected from the yellow bins.

Two lucky draw winners at the end of the first week will receive a £50 voucher for either the weekly prize of either a Centre: MK or Midsummer Place other prizes include vouchers for M&S, Pret a Manger and Kentucky Fried Chicken with all people signing their food litter and disposing of it responsibly during the Stash your Trash campaign having a chance to win the main prize of a £100 gift voucher.

This initiative is being driven by the need to combat the problem of food litter that has since 2001 grown from just 4 per cent to 24 per cent of the total of litter in our streets.

Rob Lawrence, council environmental quality manager, said: "We are using this campaign to make the public more aware of what it means if they just throw their takeaway containers on the streets.

"If you act responsibly and dispose of your litter correctly then during this campaign you could win an early Xmas present.

"But in the New Year we will be looking to take a tough approach on those people who cannot be bothered either to take their rubbish home with them or make the effort to find a litter bin."

This year Milton Keynes Council spent more than £4m keeping the streets of the city clean and tidy.

Cllr Douglas McCall, cabinet member responsible for environment, said: "It is a real shame that we have to spend £4m when with a little care from everyone we could spend this money in other ways to improve services to benefit all the people of Milton Keynes.

Info on councillors could go on-line – unless it's sensitive

THE public could soon have better access to information about councillors' interests if they are published on the Internet.

Tomorrow night Milton Keynes Council's standards committee is set to ask all councils in the area to publish the register of members' interests on their websites.

This includes Milton Keynes Council, town and parish councils, though each authority will decide individually whether to make the move.

The proposals are designed to improve the accessibility of the register, which contains information about councillors' financial interests and charitable and political activities in the council's area.

This includes details of their job, what land they own and what public bodies, charities, political parties or pressure groups they are members of.

The register is designed to protect the public by ensuring councillors cannot comment during decision-making on issues that affect their personal interests.

Previously people would have had to actively seek the contents of the register by visiting the council's offices.

Councillors were at first worried that privacy and protection for members would be at risk if the register was easily accessible through an Internet search engine.

However, the Members' Code was revised in September 2007 to allow members to apply for sensitive information which could result in violence or intimidation against them to be omitted from the list.

Milton Keynes Council passed the proposal to publish the register on the Internet at its meeting on October 9 'in the interests of openness and transparency'.

Unless the Standards committee has any objection, it is intended to publish members' interests on Milton Keynes Council's website within days of the decision on Thursday.

Information about gifts and hospitalities could also be published on each council's website.

Hot stuff as fetish pub roof collapses

A PUB known for its fetish and swingers nights is still at the heart of an investigation after it was gutted by a blaze last week.

The roof of the Lone Tree pub near Thornborough on the A421, also popular with bikers, collapsed in the early hours of November 26.

At its peak nearly 50 firefighters fought the blaze. They were called to the scene after the alarm was raised by a passing motorist at about 3am.

What remained of the tiled roof of the front part of the building collapsed onto the first floor and the two end walls were left unstable.

Carers' rights explained at city awareness day

THOUSANDS of people looking after sick or disabled relatives at home in Milton Keynes may be missing out on vital support that might help them to juggle work and care or just make life easier.

They can find out more by attending a special Carers' Rights Day event organised by Carers Milton Keynes on Friday at The David Baxter Centre, 63 North Seventh Street, Central Milton Keynes from 10.30am to 2.30pm.

Carers Milton Keynes is one of more than 800 groups across the UK taking part in Carers' Rights Day, a national awareness day organised by Carers UK.

Dr Phyllis Starkey MP will attend from 11am to midday to answer questions and concerns.

Throughout the day information and advice will be available from the Pension Service, Welfare Rights, Age Concern, Community Alarm Service, Direct Payments and Social Services as well as some leaflets on training opportunities.

Refreshments and an opportunity to ask any questions about your caring role or find out what we do at the Carers' Centre will be available throughout the event.

> Carers have recently won new rights under the Work and Families Act 2006, where they can request flexible working from their employer. Research tells us that carers' own health is twice as likely to suffer as a result of the stresses of caring and it is vital that carers know their rights, to ensure that they get the support they need.
> – Hilda Kirkwood, manager of Carers Milton Keynes

Hilda Kirkwood, manager of Carers Milton Keynes, said: "Rights and entitlements change all the time.

"Carers have recently won new rights under the Work and Families Act 2006, where they can request flexible working from their employer.

"This could make the difference between staying in work or not."

"Research tells us that carers' own health is twice as likely to suffer as a result of the stresses of caring and it is vital that carers know their rights, to ensure that they get the support they need."

For further information contact Hilda Kirkwood or Debbie Baxter on 01908 231703 or email mail@carersmiltonkeynes.org

Carers UK has produced an information booklet for carers who want information about their entitlements, Looking After Someone? – A guide to carers' rights and benefits. Copies will be available at the centre from December 7 or they can be ordered by visiting www.carersuk.org

Display space for local artists

ARTISTS young and old are to have their work exhibited in a new project by the organiser of live gig nights for city bands.

The new Apt Art project will allow anyone to exhibit their work, regardless of style or age.

The aim is to provide an environment for local artists to display their efforts and, to give people – especially those who have never been to an exhibition before – a chance to visit a space which is friendly, fun, different and may challenge people's ideas.

It is the sister project of Apt Music, which holds monthly gig nights at the County Arms in New Bradwell which has helped many local bands with everything from gig support when they start out right up to CD launch parties when they get signed.

Rachel Eyres, 22, founder of Aptly Named, which organises the projects, said: "This experience had been very rewarding and now Aptly Named wishes to spread its wings and help artists as well as musicians."

"We want people in our home town to share in our passion and excitement for art."

Apt Art will hold four exhibitions a year focusing mainly on canvas, photography, clothing and performance art.

"We will involve local schools and artists and give them a chance to exhibit their work in a gallery environment, added Miss Eyres.

The exhibitions, to be held in the upstairs hall at the Madcap Theatre in Wolverton, will be free to enter except for private view nights.

The first will be held from Monday, December 10 to Thursday, December 13 and will include work from nine local artists ranging from graffiti, band photography, computer graphics and abstract canvases.

The private view evening, where you can talk to the artists and enjoy a glass of wine, will be held on Thursday, December 13 from 7-9pm.

There will also be performances from magician Matt Downs and pianist Nick Cigar, with work from his first solo project.

Tickets are £3 in advance (£4 on the door), including two complimentary drinks.

Knowing your options on separation could save you and your family hardship and regret in the future

"Increasing numbers of people find themselves faced with the ending of their relationship. The future has suddenly become uncertain and daunting."

If you know what your legal options are on divorce or separation it can help you with your immediate worries and in planning for the future. Neves' way is to work with you to reduce the financial and emotional impact of divorce or separation on you, and where applicable on your children and your business. We aim to help you to negotiate a settlement that will allow both of you to move on with your lives. If you have children together, this is particularly important.

Collaborative law is a process in which a couple commit to reach an agreement about financial issues and any children in a series of meetings attended by them and their solicitors. Beth Woodward is a trained collaborative lawyer and can guide you through this process.

We are experienced in advising clients with family businesses or their own companies on reducing their liability for tax upon divorce or separation. We are happy to work with other professional advisers, believing in a "joined up" approach to advise the best results for the client.

We have specialist solicitors available at all our offices dealing with all aspects of family law.

Anger at building plan for Aston Martin site

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

PLANS to build housing on the old Aston Martin site in Newport Pagnell have been given the green light, despite objections from residents.

Up to 105 houses and commercial floorspace will be built on the site on Tickford Street, partly through redevelopment of the existing buildings.

Milton Keynes Council's development control committee gave the go ahead at its meeting last Thursday (November 29).

The decision was deferred on November 8 to allow councillors to visit the site.

The campaign group Residents Against Aston Martin Project (RAAMP) has been protesting against the proposals since they were announced in March.

Its members' concerns include the number of houses, the lack of room for amenities such as doctor's surgeries, and that the sewage system would be overloaded.

Hazel Dean, leader of the RAAMP, has complained about the way the application was handled by the council.

She said her letters requesting to be told when the application would be discussed and asking to speak at the meeting were ignored.

"I only found out the day before it was happening and it was only at 4.30pm that day they agreed we could speak," she said.

"Twenty residents turned up to protest again the proposals, there would have been more if we had had more time."

She added that the planning officers' report under-represented the amount of residents against the plans.

"It has all been very badly handled," she said.

"Milton Keynes Council has its own rules and regulations and they have gone against them."

"The whole thing seems to have been done to stop us."

"Somebody has gone out of their way to make it look like there is no opposition to the plans and keep RAAMP from being able to speak out."

At the meeting on Thursday Councillor Douglas McCall called for the development control committee to review its procedures in light of these concerns.

A spokesman for Milton Keynes Council said an ongoing review, begun in September, is being carried out into development control procedures and Douglas McCall's comments will be brought to the working group's attention.

He added: "We do our best to keep people informed if they are interested in a planning application."

"On this occasion, the only time we 'broke the rules' here was by allowing this lady to speak at the meeting as we had no record of her request."

Mum cooked Raymond's

World famous chef Raymond Blanc has just opened a brasserie at thehub:mk.
Star of BBC2's The Restaurant, Blanc also owns Le Manoir aux Quat' Saisons, which has two Michelin stars and Le Petit Blanc in Oxford.
Although never formally trained himself, he has trained some of the UK's leading culinary talent including Marco Pierre White, Michael Caines and Eric Chavot. Now he is offering the foods he grew up with in France - including gifts and readymade meals - at Blanc's Brasserie in Milton Keynes.
Reporter ALICIA BABAEE went to speak to him

Q Tell me a bit about your background and how you became a chef

My grandmother was the most amazing cook. I remember because they were the keepers of a castle, a humble background, and there they had a little house. But that castle had a microclimate, huge gardens, about 30 acres.

There everything grew from grapes, apricots, peaches, apples.

They had a deep understanding, so I had an introduction to good food.

My mum was a guilty Catholic, and my old man was a communist atheist, imagine what kind of huge conversations we had around the dinner table. He was a great gardener and my mum was a great cook.

From the age of seven, I would hunt and gather all the food, wild mushrooms, frogs, snails, across the plaintain or across the forest. Imagine doing that as a kid, it was like Walt Disneyland going into the forests.

There were so many animals, so many fruits, berries, growing from the trees, and grapes falling down from the trees, tonnes and tonnes. My old man had so much knowledge.

He was in tune, he knew everything that went on, the moon cycles, seasonal cycles.

In the middle of May he could say look at the moon, the breeze, then he'd say 'Tonight we're going to go hunting frogs.' I'd get very excited.That's my childhood. At 14, most boys were looking at pornographic books. I was hunting asparagus. It was an amazing approach to food.

Q Are you a big believer in families sitting around the table together?

The kitchen the heart of the house. You cook food that you share there. Around that table you argue, you hate each other, you love each other, but you create bonds. You are creating the nucleus of society. There is plenty of evidence that today we are getting it absolutely all wrong by separating food from everything, making it a mere convenience.

Q Are you going to source any food locally?

I want to get to know all the local farmers as much as possible. I am in the process of doing it now. I need to spend a few days meeting everyone.

Q Why do you hate being called a celebrity chef?

I think calling someone a celebrity chef is devaluing them. It's about celebrity status and being known, but known for what? I know I've spent my life training young British people, it's my craft. Sure, I've been connected with television even though I said I would never do that. But I'm a craftsman first . businessman. I do lots of activities. To be a celebrity, is devaluing.

Q Are there any other well known chefs you admire?

I think Gary Rhodes is a good man. Rick Stein is also a good man.

best ever meal

Q Have you any tips for young chefs?
Talent will never be enough to carry you to success, you have to work, you have to work hard.

You cannot just expect become the best if you are talented. It's a dream.

With success, you make it happen.

It's like love. You have to make it work, with willpower. So go for it, and enjoy it. Be curious, query things.

Try to think out of the box. Enrich yourself. If you look hard enough, you will find it.

Q You met the Queen the other day. Have you ever done any catering for her or met her before?
Many times. I used to cook for the Queen Mum, hundreds of times, and the Queen used to come. Both of them are deeply in love with horses, especially the Queen Mum.

It was a privilege. It was really a lovely feeling.

Then after the Queen Mum, sometimes the Queen, would come in the kitchen and say 'Thank you very much' to every single young person.

That to me is a lovely act. The Queen Mum would talk to me in French, and her French was immaculate.

One time there were 100 staff, and she had a word with every one of them. That is class.

Q How long did it take you to construct the Brasserie Blanc menu?
We do a new menu seasonally. My chef here, Clive, has been with me 23 years, since 1984.

Q Would you eat fast food?

I am very suspicious of fast food. Everything is so unethical, it's disgusting, it's processed.

You are taking a product that is so cheap, so intensively produced.

When you process it to give it flavour you are adding sugar, transfats, things that give flavour, all the chemistry of additives, colourings, preserving agents.

With all the marketing they woo you to manipulate you...on the whole the fast food industry is an industry led by greed.

Q So if you needed to rustle up a quick convenient lunch what would you make?
Thousands of things. I could teach you how to do a soup in five minutes, an omelette in three, pasta in four with 25 different sauces as well.

Q What's the best meal you've ever had?
I've had many best meals. I know this is incredibly boring and predictable, but my own mum's cooking.

'Talent will never be enough to carry you to success, you have to work, you have to work hard': Raymond Blanc

Have your story told at theatre

YOUNG writers could have their work performed at MK Theatre by entering a competition launched this week.

The Milton Keynes City Orchestra has launched a children's writing competition asking youngsters to write on the theme of birds.

The winning entries will be performed in the orchestra's family concert The Birds at Milton Keynes Theatre on February 17 next year.

The afternoon concert will weave a creative web of words, music and carnival arts inspired by our feathered friends.

The competition is divided into seven categories, the first six aimed at community areas including Greenleys, Wolverton, Bradville, Netherfield, Fishermead and the Lakes Estate.

These categories are each split into three age groups.

The seventh category is open to all children in Milton Keynes from under fivesto 11-year-olds.

The top entry from across the city will be performed by local story teller Yaw Asiyama in the orchestra's family concert.

The winners from the first six categories will form part of local community concerts in January and later the concert at MK Theatre.

All winners will also receive a £25 voucher from Borders, who are sponsoring the competition, and a pair of tickets to attend the concert.

■ Entry forms are available from Borders on Elder Gate, The Portway, Milton Keynes or from Milton Keynes City Orchestra by calling 01908 558311 or by e-mailing info@mkco.org.

Developers to get guide for new homes designs

We want each estate to have its own uniqueness. It gives developers some idea of what to expect so when they put in their plans there is less risk of them being rejected

– Cllr Chris Williams, cabinet member responsible for planning

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A DESIGN guide for housing developers is to help improve the character of Milton Keynes' new estates.

The guide is being produced by Milton Keynes Council in an attempt to prevent new housing areas lacking any distinctive character.

It will provide guidance to the developers of the 70,000 new homes to be built in Milton Keynes by 2031.

A draft copy of the document was due to be discussed by Cabinet last night.

If passed it will be used by the council and Milton Keynes Partnership in discussions with house builders and to determine planning applications.

The guide does not focus on the physical design of houses, which is already covered by existing planning documents, but the environment in which they are built.

It aims to help raise the overall quality of residential developments and make them reflect the character of Milton Keynes as an innovative twenty-first century city.

"We are hoping to improve the character of Milton Keynes because there has been so much mass building of estates that could be anywhere in the country," said Cllr Chris Williams, cabinet member responsible for planning.

"The guide is not a list of instructions as we don't want to reproduce the same thing over and over, we want each estate to have its own uniqueness."

"It gives developers some idea of what to expect so when they put in their plans there is less risk of them being rejected."

The document includes guidance on housing density, parking, character features, sustainability, open spaces, landscaping and landmarks.

The council have also worked closely with the police to use the guide to 'build crime out' of the new estates.

"For example, instead of putting parking areas at the back of buildings where people can't see them and where opportunist thieving can take place, we can find a way of putting parking at the front and look at lighting to allow people to feel more secure," said Cllr Williams.

The council hopes providing a pleasant environment to live in will reduce petty crime and anti-social behaviour.

"We are looking to make people appreciate the area in which they live so that they want to keep it like it is," he added.

If the draft document is passed a further consultation will be carried out with town and parish councillors, developers, architects, and police before the final guide is produced.

The design guide may then become part of the Local Development Framework as a supplementary planning document.

Blow for motorists the morning after

MOTORISTS drinking the night before risk facing the ultimate hangover – a ban or even a jail sentence.

Thames Valley Police and Milton Keynes Council road safety officers will be taking part in a Christmas drink drive awareness session outside the railway station on Thursday.

The aim is to highlight to any commuters volunteering to take a breath test just how much alcohol remains in the bloodstream after drinking the night before – nearly one in six of deaths on the road involve drink drivers.

Each commuter will be invited for a chat and free coffee (courtesy of AMT Coffee based at the station), and asked to take a breath test.

Now the Christmas party season starts to enter full swing, the number of people that might find themselves over the legal limit the morning after is likely to rise.

Vince Morley, road safety officer with Milton Keynes Council, said: "Depending on what you had to drink, and when you stopped drinking, you may still be over the drink drive limit in the morning.

"I think some people will be surprised at the results of their breath test. They may have driven to the station in the morning at the start of their journey while still over the limit.

"The liver processes alcohol at a steady rate, about one unit per hour, so if you are drinking the night before, plan your journey the following day by alternative means to ensure you don't mistakenly drive while drunk."

Morning after feeling: Don't mistakenly drive while drunk

Over the past three years more than 14 per cent of all fatal collisions and nine per cent of all serious injury collisions in the Buckinghamshire and Milton Keynes areas were as a direct result of drink driving.

Only four years ago in Milton Keynes a young girl was killed in a road accident when a drink driver fell asleep at the wheel following a heavy drinking session the night before.

Road safety Sergeant Chris Appleby of Thames Valley Police said: "Alcohol takes a long time to leave your system fully; you may feel fine the next morning but still be well over the limit if you have been drinking the night before.

"Cold showers, etc are just myths, when it comes to sobering up the only guarantee is substantial periods of time. If you are driving the next day, stay off the alcohol and get a good night's sleep."

Driving or attempting to drive while above the legal limit carries a maximum penalty of six months jail, a fine of up to £5,000 and a minimum 12 months driving ban with endorsements staying on your licence for 11 years.

Chef launches appeal with pies and lollipops

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

CHILDREN being treated in hospital were handed mince pies and lollipops by celebrity chef Raymond Blanc yesterday.

The chef visited Milton Keynes Hospital to launch the Little Future Lives Appeal which aims to raise £250,000 for the neonatal unit.

Patients, visitors and staff at the unit and the children's ward were treated to Mr Blanc's tasty giveaways yesterday morning.

The hospital cares for over 300 premature, small or ill babies a year and donations from the appeal will help to buy vital equipment to provide the most sophisticated care.

Some babies are born up to 16 weeks early and weighing as little as 500 grams, requiring intensive, high dependency and special care.

The neonatal unit has three intensive care cots and 15 special care cots but needs to be redesigned to cope with Milton Keynes' growing birth rate.

At a special auction hosted at the hospital yesterday visitors and staff helped kick start the fundraising by placing bids for lunch and dinner at Mr Blanc's new restaurant at thehub:mk, Brasserie Blanc.

Mr Blanc said: "I'm delighted to have the opportunity to contribute to raising both awareness and funds for the Little Future Lives Appeal by visiting the children, their families and the staff who work so tirelessly to care for them.

"I took some Christmas treats from my newly-opened Maman Blanc shop which I hope they enjoyed."

The busy celebrity also paid a visit to thecentre:mk's Christmas Show to hand out mince pies and mulled wine in Middleton Hall.

Information, advice, support and counselling since 1992

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A CHARITY counselling service is celebrating 15 years of providing support to the people of Milton Keynes.

The City Counselling Centre, based in the Christ the Cornerstone building in Central Milton Keynes, has provided information, advice, support and counselling to clients with a wide range of needs since it opened in 1992.

The number of people attending the centre has grown in that time with 6,626 client visits in 2006.

The centre was also granted accreditation by the British Association of Counselling and Psychotherapy in November last year and, have recently been awarded a contract by the local NHS Primary Care Trust to provide a counselling service for patients referred to them by their GPs.

Diana Savage, centre manager, explained that the service was originally set up to provide communal facilities for the use of small support and counselling groups in the city.

"Very quickly we realised that there were many gaps in provision in Milton Keynes so we decided to develop our own service independently, whilst still offering facilities for our member organisations," she said.

"I think the idea came from the fact a lot of people come to Milton Keynes without family networks," she added.

"Originally in the area there was a series of little villages with people who had lived there for years and many had extended families.

"Suddenly when Milton Keynes was built there was a huge influx of people without that support.

"We opened to provide help for those people through life's difficulties and events.

> – Diana Savage, City Counselling Centre manager

"We are not a national organisation, we are home grown in Milton Keynes and everything is our own.

"This has meant we have been able to respond to what Milton Keynes needs."

The City Counselling Centre runs seven of its own projects, as well as aiding the work of 14 member organisations.

This includes drop in sessions to give people information about the counselling services on offer in Milton Keynes, which attract between 650 and 700 people a year.

They also offer a children and families service to help children with emotional difficulties going through issues such as their parents divorce, step-family problems, and bullying; carers counselling for those looking after individuals with mental and physical disabilities; and a trauma service for those who have suffered from severe incidents such as factory or road accidents.

They also provide drugs and alcohol counselling and a sexual assault service, for those who have been victims of rape or sexual abuse.

Most of their projects are run by qualified volunteers, which enables the centre to run many of its counselling and support services free or at low cost depending on the client's needs.

As a local voluntary organisation, the centre is funded by donations and grants from various sources including the Community Foundation and Milton Keynes Council.

Christmas in Seasonal Shopping

The theme for this years Stony Stratford Business Associations Christmas Window Competition is 'Snowmen'. This competition is to be judged by the public, (votes to be placed in the boxes in participating venues). The lucky person who chooses the winning window and whose name is drawn out of the snowman's hat will win a fabulous hamper full of Stony Stratford goodies.

Willis the Florist who have trees, wreaths and flowers for sale, have full sized snowmen in their windows acting out tableaus featuring 'Three Wise Snowmen' and the 'Snowmen Nativity'. Michaels Menswear, have a huge snowman showing what the well dressed snowman is wearing this festive season. Lesley Arkin Optometrist has delightful box windows of magical stars and glittery baubles which light up and flying-snowmen. All enchanting, diverse and imaginative.

In the High Street, look out for the windows in the Stony Stratford Book Shop offering: 20-40% off hardbacks and 3 for 2 childrens' books. The Outdoor Shop - presents to keep you warm. Metalyka - silver jewellery, giftware, decorations, wrapping paper cards & candles. Chesneys - a new hair style for your Christmas & New Year parties and vouchers for new clients. Morgan Guider encourage you to 'deck your hall with chairs so jolly' from their range of home furniture and furnishings. DW Roberts Optometrist are offering 50% off selected frames in their Winter Sale starting 1st Dec. Browns the new hairdressers in town have special offers on hair colouring. Odells Hardware Store have extremely unusual gifts not to be found elsewhere.

The Library in Church Street would like to remind you that you are welcome to come and stock up on books and cds for the Christmas break.

Further along the High Street, the Willen Hospice Shop has a wonderful collection of interesting and individual gifts. Cowleys the undertakers are there to provide individual support, care and reassurance when it matters most.

In Stratford Arcade, Mangetout provide comfort of another kind with home-made mince pies, coffee, tea and freshly made sandwiches. Opposite, Fur & Purr have both edible and squeaky seasonal treats for your pets. ChIna Seas - Gifts from the Far East have an Aladdins cave of wonderful treasures and excellent value gifts. The Al' Tamborista Restaurant are taking bookings for your Christmas party now.

Tucked away in the charming arcade of Timor Court, you will find: Dress Rehearsal, supplying special party wear and Daerons Books, where magical, fantasy books and The Stony Stratford Game can be found.

With so many independent shops selling such individual wares, you are sure to find wonderful presents for your friends and relations - and maybe even a treat yourself. Whatever else you may discover, you can be sure of a warm welcome, FREE PARKING and lots of places for refreshments in the town with arguably, the best Christmas lighting display in the area.

It's a shopping experience to thoroughly enjoy.!

During November there is an air of barely suppressed excitement in Stony Stratford. A cheerful team of dedicated volunteers prepare and hang the Christmas lights which will bring thousands of admiring visitors flocking to the town over the festive period.

Over 5000 light bulbs are checked and placed into vast lengths of cable ready to string in great festoons across the streets. An army of ladder climbers dangle precariously as they hoist up huge angels and choristers to joyfully dance above the High Street.

A dramatic twenty foot high Christmas tree is felled in local woods and re-sited in the Market Square. A star is carefully placed on top of the great fir tree beside St Mary and St Giles Church, whilst more lights are strewn throughout the branches of the trees beside the Library. Small Christmas trees are also placed above all the shops in the town carrying even more lights. The whole town becomes connected by lights.

In Stony Stratford on Saturday 1st December there will be festive stalls and live entertainment in the High Street, hot food stalls, Santa's Grotto and much, much more. As evening approaches the colourful fairground becomes very busy and Glo-sticks are waved by excited children. When dark descends, a parade of over 200 lanterns made and carried by children make their way down London Road and weave through the crowds to the Market Square where on-stage entertainment is in full swing. At 5.15pm, the crowds count-down to the Lights Switch-On.

A spectacle you have to see to believe.

Some of the award winners at Barnardo's Children & Young People's Rights Service celebration night

'Right-on' night celebrates Barnardo's Rights Service

A MUSICAL evening has celebrated the successes and achievements of young disabled people from Milton Keynes.

Barnardo's Milton Keynes Children & Young People's Rights Service held it's second annual evening of celebration to mark Children's Rights Day, on Monday November 19.

The celebration was held at Mood nightclub and music was provided by local rock band PopKiller and the Groovy Gecko DJs from the city's first club night run by and for people with learning disabilities.

The MC was Vito from MK Lightning and his team.

Awards for bravery, education, community contribution, sport, arts, and helping others were presented by the Mayor of Milton Keynes, Cllr Mike Barry and players from MK Lions.†

Barnardo's Milton Keynes Children & Young People's Rights Service aims to improve the lives of children and young people by promoting their rights and ensuring the views of young people in Milton Keynes are properly represented in issues that affect them.

Avoid all excess is Xmas warning

Over eating, drinking, smoking and drunken sex on festive hit list

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

CHRISTMAS is a time of health risks for people in Milton Keynes according to local authorities.

This week city residents have been told not to drink too much, eat too much or smoke too much as the festive season gets under way.

The list of warnings is growing as Thames Valley Police, Milton Keynes Hospital and Milton Keynes Primary Care Trust urge people to avoid excess.

The police pointed to evidence that historically the number of reported assaults rises over the Christmas period, including sexual, domestic abuse, rapes and other acts of alcohol-related violence.

Local policing commander Superintendent Gez Chiariello said: "We do not want that national trend to include Milton Keynes."

A police statement also warned of the dangers of drunk, unprotected sex, which can lead to unwanted pregnancy and sexually transmitted diseases.

Rachel Flowers, assistant director of public health at the PCT, said: "Don't get so drunk that you can't say no.

"Look out for your mates and always use a condom."

Meanwhile a heart specialist nurse from Milton Keynes Hospital has warned people not to eat or smoke too much, amid fears of coronary heart disease.

Nurse Alison Smith said: "Heart disease is often thought of as an older person's problem but lifestyle choices such as binge drinking, taking recreational drugs and eating fatty foods up the risk of developing heart problems."

In an effort to tackle alcohol abuse, Milton Keynes Community Safety Partnership joined the police to launch a month of action this week.

On Saturday night representatives from the partnership, police and fire services will hand out free bottles of water to party goers in the Theatre District and Xscape area from 10pm to 2am.

Neil Atkinson, Reducing Violence project manager for the Community Safety Partnership said: "Often people are not aware of how many units they are consuming on a night out and can forget to drink soft drinks to help keep themselves hydrated.

"Handing out water focuses the attention of drinkers and contributes towards a calmer, safer atmosphere."

If you are worried about your own or someone else's drinking call Drinkline free on 0800 9178282.

Lottery brothers star in TV show

LOTTERY-winning brothers Ian and Peter Collier are starring in a new 'Through the Keyhole'-style show on National Lottery Xtra.

The brand new digital TV channel goes behind the scenes at The National Lottery and explores what happens when you hit the jackpot.

Millionaires will give viewers an insight into how it really feels to become a lottery millionaire as Peter describes the moment he found out that he had won and how life has since changed for him and his brother Ian.

The cameras follow the brothers as they show viewers their new home and their indulgent purchases since their six lucky numbers scooped a £8,556,173 jackpot win on February 14, 2004.

Both Peter and Ian worked for a local sheet metal company but after learning of their lottery windfall they both resigned and have since embraced the millionaire's lifestyle.

The programme shows off some of the purchases that were on their shopping list, including their newly-built five bedroom house, with an external games room and bar.

Their new estate is also home to a £250,000 bespoke garden and garages full of new and classic cars.

A National Lottery spokesman said: "More than 10,000 people have won a share of a Lotto jackpot and the National Lottery Xtra service is a great opportunity to give viewers a chance to go behind-the-scenes and find out what really happens when you win."

Time locks delay postal deliveries

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

PEOPLE living in council flats in West Bletchley and other areas are being denied access to a decent mail service.

The combination of automated door locking systems and new Post Office working arrangements means that residents in the area are not getting daily deliveries.

The automated doors at West Bletchley used to open at 6am and lock at 11am.

But since the clocks went back an hour on October 28, they now open at 5am and lock at 10am.

In addition, postmen who used to go out delivering at 5am now don't leave the sorting offices until 10.30am. By this time the doors at council flat blocks are locked.

Posties who arrive at the blocks too late to get in the doors are having to take mail back to the sorting offices with them.

One postman in the Milton Keynes area, who did not want to be named, said: "No one is getting their mail on time. Most flats around Milton Keynes are on time locks which close at 10am.

"Instead of people having their post at 9am before they go to work, many people now get it before teatime.

"If you're lucky you might catch a resident coming out and they might let you in."

Unacceptable: Cllr Liz Campbell outside Mellish Court

Councillor Liz Campbell from the West Bletchley ward says she has received several complaints from residents.

Several postmen have complained to the council about their inability to access some properties but they have been told complaints must come from residents themselves.

Cllr Campbell said: "It is unacceptable that residents who live in flats are being denied a proper mail service.

"It's not the fault of individual posties, who work hard in all weathers.

"I really think that the council could sort this out very easily by altering the timer switches on the doors, or possibly issuing keys to the Post Office, as they already do to housing officers and contractors."

A council spokesman said: "We understand the Royal Mail has decided to move away from the traditional pattern of deliveries and that post can now be delivered at almost any time of day now depending on where you live.

"This move on their part means that many of their delivery agents are arriving outside the normal trade button times and may have to press the call button of one of the flats they are delivering to in order to get access to the block.

"We have not received complaints from our customers about this and the Royal Mail has not contacted us to tell us that this is causing them an issue. If they did so then we would happily work with them to identify local solutions that benefit our mutual customers."

WONDERFUL SHOPPING!

THIS beautiful Georgian Village is now a centre for chic restaurants, great pubs and a variety of specialist shops.

With a monthly Farmers market, annual events such as the famous Oyster Festival and with the Safari park, Woburn Abbey and a fantastic Golf Club, there is something for everyone whether out for a day trip or staying for longer in one of the superb local hotels.

On these pages you'll find details of just some of the many shops, hotels and restaurants in the village .

Unlike so many 'High street' shopping trips, shopping in Woburn offers a beautifully picturesque setting without the everyday High Street names. An extensive variety of products is available ranging from giftwares to Savile Row tailoring, exclusive reproduction furniture to cross stitch patterns.

While there, you have the choice of having a drink, snack or meal at a number of the pubs, tea houses, restaurants or hotels and with Woburn Abbey and Safari Park just a few minutes away, you can turn what could be a mundane shopping trip into a day out for the family by visiting Woburn Village, just 5 minutes from M1 Junction 13 or 14.

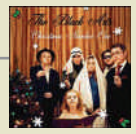
CHRISTMAS NUMBER ONE



Black Arts

DO you remember when it was actually an achievement for somebody to have the Christmas Number One, instead of the tacky marketing ploy it's since become? These days, things have got so bad the bookies are now taking bets on the Christmas Number Two, which is a bit daft because a) there's no fun in guessing what the second best selling single at Christmas is and b) the single at Number One is more often than not a giant number two itself. Yeah, I know, bah humbug and all that.

The thing is, when was the last time the Christmas Number One was a proper Christmas song?

Band Aid 20 three years ago, that's when, and that version wasn't very festive at all. Or good, for that matter. No, I'll tell you what we need, and that's a proper Christmas song like what they used to do back in the so-called good old days, but updated so it knows how naff it is. Step forward Art Brut and Black Box Recorder, then. What do you mean, "Who?" Er… yes, well, I see what you mean. Black Box Recorder have been in the charts before, but it was a good few years back, whereas Art Brut have never yet graced the Top 40, but because they'd done a song called Top Of The Pops there was a campaign to get them on the very last show, only the BBC bottled it by going down the 'let's show loads of clips and remind the viewers not only how great the show used to be but also how awful we let it become before we killed it' route instead. Naughty BBC.

Anyway, if you've got a song calling itself Christmas Number One you'd be perfectly entitled to expect something that doesn't take itself too seriously, and that's pretty much what you get. The tune's standard festive fare – sleighbells, singing children and the like – but here's the clever bit… the lyrics acknowledge it, in fact they're supposed to be there. The story's about a band that created the ultimate Christmas chart-topper, thereby creating a monster they couldn't control – literally. I mean literally too, the song becomes a monster and nobody can stop it. It's all over the radio and the telly (they even sing about how they'll have to bring back Top Of The Pops because no other show is big enough to handle it) and it gets so huge that eventually the army are called in stop it… and all this is sung completely straight.

Now THAT is how you do a Christmas single. This is a work of total and utter genius, so hats off to the two bands involved. Of course, it hasn't got a cat in Hell's chance of actually living up to its name, but it's done so well it even feels like a classic Christmas single, only good for a change.

Best festive release since Stop The Cavalry? It certainly gives Wonderful Christmastime a proper kicking, that's for sure.

GONNA MAKE YOU A STAR

Lee Mead

I SUPPOSE it must take a fair amount of effort making a cover version sound virtually identical to the original.

It's probably a bit like art forgers making sure their Mona Lisa looks exactly like the real thing, right down to the brush-strokes. With that in mind, I'd like to extend my hearty congratulations to Lee Mead and his merry band of session musicians for not only covering a 33-year-old single, but for making the new version sound 33 years old as well. That's dedication for you.

To be fair to him, he (or somebody else) has chosen one of David Essex's better songs to kick off his career in earnest. It's just a shame that in all likelihood, very soon from now, the original will still be the go-to version for the radio stations to play while this version will be all but forgotten.

That's what happens when you don't stamp your own personality on a song, I'm afraid.

HIS DARK MATERIALS: THE GOLDEN COMPASS (2007)

Ben Walker, Ian McKellen, Ian McShane, Jim Carter, Tom Courtenay, Charlie Rowe, Clare Higgins, Steven Loton, Sam Elliott, Nicole Kidman, Eva Green, Daniel Craig, Dakota Blue Richards

Now showing

BASED on the first book of Phillip Pullman's His Dark Materials trilogy, The Golden Compass (we know it as Northern Lights) is set in a parallel universe, where young Lyra Belacqua and her daemon Pantalaimon must journey to the far North to save her best friend from terrible experiments by a mysterious organization.

SOUTHLAND TALES (2007)

Dwyane 'The Rock' Johnson, Sarah Michelle Gellar, Seann William Scott, Kevin Smith, Curtis Armstrong, Justin Timberlake

From Friday

A THIRD World War has broken out in 2008 and Hollywood action star Boxer Santaros (Johnson) has gone missing. When he reappears, tattooed and shacked up with a porn star (Gellar), things really get weird.

CODE NAME: THE CLEANER (PG)

Cedric The Entertainer, Lucy Liu, Nicollette Sheridan

From Friday

JAKE (Cedric the Entertainer) is a seemingly regular guy who, after suffering a knock to the head, becomes convinced he is an undercover agent.

HE WAS A QUIET MAN (15)

Christian Slater, Elisha Cuthbert

From Friday

AN office worker inadvertently becomes a hero when he shoots down a co-worker who's gone on a shooting spree.

YOU KILL ME (2007)

Ben Kingsley, Tea Leoni, Luke Wilson, Bill Pullman

From Friday

WHILE drying out on the west coast, an alcoholic hitman befriends a tart-tounged woman who might just come in handy when it's time for him to return to Buffalo and settle some old scores.

FRED CLAUS (PG)

Vince Vaughn, Paul Giamatti, Miranda Richardson, Elizabeth Banks, John Michael Higgins, Rachel Weisz, Kathy Bates, Kevin Spacey

Now showing

WHEN wayward sibling Fred Claus (Vaughn) is bailed by saintly brother Nick (Giamatti), he agrees to work at the North Pole for the pre-Christmas rush. But with efficiency expert Clyde (Spacey) plotting to shut down Santa Claus for good, now is a bad time for Fred's brand of chaos.

THE ASSASSINATION OF JESSE JAMES BY THE COWARD ROBERT FORD (15)

Brad Pitt, Casey Affleck, Sam Shepard, Mary-Louise Parker, Jeremy Renner, Paul Schneider, Sam Rockwell, Zooey Deschanel

Now showing

AS his gang and legend begin to fragment, train-robber and outlaw Jesse James (Pitt) is a haunted man. He can feel his death approaching, but can he foresee that fringe gang-member Robert Ford (Affleck) will be the man to pull the trigger?

SLEUTH

Now Showing

YET another Hollywood remake of an already classic movie. Thriller writer Wyke (Caine), who also starred in the first film, invites in Lothario Milo (Law) and makes him a proposition - stop sleeping with the wife and in return get the winnings from an insurance scam. One slight catch: Milo has to fake a jewellery heist in Wyke's house. And so the game of double-cross begins...

AMERICAN GANGSTER (18)

Denzel Washington, Russell Crowe, Josh Brolin, Chiwetel Ejiofor, Carla Gugino, Common, TI, RZA, Ted Levine, John Ortiz, Yul Vazquez, Roger Bart

Now Showing

THE true story of Frank Lucas (Washington), a 70s Harlem crime lord who took on the Mafia by importing uncut heroin directly from Thailand, then selling it cheaper. Enter Richie Roberts (Crowe), the one clean cop in a sea of filthy fuzz, assigned to stem the drug flow.

THE PITZ MASKED BALL

THE organisers of The Milton Keynes Masked Ball are putting on the ultimate Christmas party at Woughton Centre on Saturday, December 15.

The Masked Ball is known for its over-the-top extravagance and this Christmas party titled 'The Christmas Cracker' will be no exception to that rule.

"This may not be a ball, but it will be a fantastic festive party!" says event organiser, Dylan Jeavons.

"We are taking over The Pitz and creating a spectacular event that will be a good old traditional knees-up."

There will be different things happening all over the building, all with a Christmas theme.

The Great Horwood Silver Band will kick the evening off with some traditional Christmas carols and then the party will really get going with Paul Sams on the decks.

There will be Christmas Karaoke in the foyer courtesy of Karaoke Fun and an adults Santa's grotto upstairs (enter if you dare!). Guests are encouraged to wear something festive and while this is optional, you might like to consider that there will be prizes for the best dressed. There will also be an extensive buffet brimming with traditional Christmas fayre.

Hosting and headlining the event will be Milton Keynes premiere party band The Pimples.

For those of you that haven't experienced 'The Pimps' before, don't let their silly name fool you, these guys are seriously good.

Previously known as The Blues Collective, they know how to put on a good show and, as usual, they'll be joined by a host of local talent including vocalists Nicky Prince, Jo Farragher, Jason Oakes and the rock god that is Jimmy Volcano.

Tickets are available from the venue at just £15 including buffet (call 01908 660392).

For further details of the event visit www.thechristmascracker.co.uk or call 01908 200912.

As with The Masked Ball, all profits from this event will go to children's cancer charities.

GARDENLIFE

CHRISTMAS is coming and now is the time to start thinking about your tree.

Christmas Trees come in all shapes and sizes from the huge one placed in Trafalgar Square to small artificial ones with shiny needles.

For many families the holiday wouldn't be complete without a cut fresh tree gracing the living room.

There are several ways to buy your tree but a trip to a garden centre where you can choose your tree can turn a chore into a fun trip out.

Make sure the tree you choose will fit comfortably in the space you have identified. Use a tape measure if necessary to measure the width at its base.

There are a wide variety of trees on the market each with a distinctive shape and colour but they fall basically between the ones that drop their needles and those that don't.

TYPES OF TREE

■ Nordman Fir: Non-needle drop with lovely green foliage
■ Noble Fir: A glorious non-needle drop tree with a wonderful fragrance
■ Blue Spruce: A fantastic blue tint and a pot-grown tree should not drop needles.
■ Norway Spruce. This is the original variety brought by Price Albert for Queen Victoria, but a cut tree will drop its needles.

TIPS FOR LOOKING AFTER YOUR TREE

Cut Trees: A tree should never be mounted dry. Cut an inch off the base before standing it in water not sand or soil, and keep the reservoir topped up. (Most good stands have a water reservoir.)
Pot Grown: Try not to get the tree too hot or place near a radiator. Make sure you keep it watered over the Xmas period.

OTHER JOBS FOR DECEMBER

■ Prune all tall roses by about a half to prevent wind rock.
■ Line your green house with bubble wrap or polystyrene.
■ Clean paths and rake leaves from paths and patios
■ Remove pumps and filters from ponds and water features.

TASTELIFE

STRADA

500 The Hub, Midsummer Boulevard.
01908 238900
Review by Laura Hannam

A taste of Italy: Strada is as close to authentic Italian food as you can get

AS a big lover of the tastes of Italy I was pleased to hear that Strada has opened a restaurant in The Hub.

The group, which has over 55 restaurants throughout the UK, offers rustic, traditional Italian dishes in a contemporary setting.

The new restaurant in Milton Keynes, which opened around two months ago, has a quirky, modern lay out with cubby holes for groups to nestle into, creating a relaxed atmosphere.

The menu offers a wide variety of favourites from risottos and pastas to a range of traditional pizzas and, the prices are relatively modest.

For starters I ordered the Bruschetta Al Pomodoro (£3.95), char grilled ciabatta bread rubbed with garlic and served with vine ripened plum tomatoes, garlic, basil, and extra virgin olive oil, which made a light, pleasant starter.

My guest ordered the Caprese (£4.95 or main with avocado for £7.95), which consisted of imported Mozarella made from fresh buffalo milk and served with vine ripened tomatoes, fresh basil leaves and extra virgin olive oil. My guest said the Mozzarella was "surprisingly creamy".

For the main course I chose the Linguine Alla Pescatora (£9.50), sauteed tiger prawns, squid, mussels and fresh clams in white wine, garlic, chilli and fresh tomato sauce. This was a gorgeous dish with a delicious sauce and a good portion of shell fish – I would definitely order this again.

My guest ordered the Agnello Al Ferri Con Salsa Verde (£13.95), char grilled English lamb chops served with roasted butternut squash and ciabatta potatoes, rocket salad and a fresh herb salad verde. She said the lamb was tender and pesto very fresh.

For dessert my guest quickly polished off the Fondente Al Cacao (£4.75), a warm melting chocolate pudding served with vanilla ice cream.

I ordered the Italian classic Panettone Al Forno (£4.95), a very rich warm panettone bread and butter pudding served with vanilla ice cream and a caramel sauce.

The dishes were all well presented and the service prompt and very friendly.

Don't go expecting a quaint little La Trattoria but – if you can't get to Italy – for a quick, easy bite in the city's new restaurant district Strada is ideal.

Russell's Love & Relationship Horoscopes

Aries (Mar21-Apr20)
Don't overlook small details like childcare, finalising arrangements with the family and contacting relatives who are overseas. The earlier you get started, the more in control you will feel as Christmas swiftly approaches. Call me on my Aries advice line 09065 504 342 to hear how your festive schedule's getting full of events and activities and you might wonder how you're going to fit everything in. It might help to write a to-do list and plan your budget carefully.

Taurus (Apr21-May21)
Some strange things are going on this week and you're sure to be feeling confused or perplexed. You've always want to plan for the future so there is nothing blissful in the waiting. Call me on my Taurean advice line 09065 504 342 to hear why it's up to someone else to make a decision before you can make any plans. The good news is: it won't be long before you know what's happening and you can start making joint plans of a long term nature.

Gemini (May22-June21)
It won't be easy to agree on family plans for Christmas. An older relative is taking the joy out of the occasion but you will find a way to keep everyone happy. You will need to work with your family to plan new ways to enjoy the festive fun. Call me on my Gemini advice line 09065 504 342 to hear how contact with people from a distance could bring some fresh ideas for the New Year and why a secret negotiation will give you something special to celebrate soon.

Cancer (June22-July23)
Get organised and be structured in your festive preparations. Start sending Christmas cards now if you haven't done so already or write a family newsletter to send out en-masse! The best way to reduce stress is to follow a well thought out plan. Call me on my Cancerian advice line 09065 504 342 to hear why structuring your time and budgeting carefully for the festive season will be the best way to ensure to make sure everything goes according to plan

Leo (July24-Aug23)
This is not a good time to start a diet. With the Christmas party season now upon us you might need to put your slimming plans on hold for a wee while. Just be mindful about what you eat and drink. Call me on my Leo advice line 09065 504 342 to hear why care, caution and control will be very important to your inner happiness over the festive season so talk to friends and family before making any plans or decisions and make sure you draw up a budget and stick to it.

Virgo (Aug24-Sept23)
What's important now and throughout the month ahead, is knowing when to stop! Your keenness to get on and get things done will keep you feeling energised but pay attention to what those sharing your world are telling you. Call me on my Virgoan advice line 09065 504 342 to hear why you would be wise to decide how much you want to spend before joining friends on a Christmas shopping spree! Have fun, but know where to draw the line..

Libra (Sept24-Oct23)
Change is an inevitable part of life. You're clinging to a situation which you know will not be good for you. You can't assume you can make decisions and expect you'll be satisfied with the results for the rest of your life. Call me on my Libra line 09065 504 342 to hear how as you grow and experience new things and meet different people, your needs and interests change. That doesn't mean the decisions you make now are worthless. They will play an important role in your future.

Scorpio (Oct24-Nov22)
If you are hosting a festive party or meal, be sure to get your invitations out in good time. The Christmas issues of your favourite lifestyle magazine might provide some special recipes and festive ideas. Call me on my Scorpio line 09065 504 342 to hear why a restricting commitment could be leaving you soon giving your spirits a boost and why a loved one is in a surprisingly assertive mood and expecting you to fall in with their plans!

Sagittarius (Nov23-Dec21)
You take job matters seriously and an opportunity to promote your career could come you way in the next day or so. Try to put as practical view into your life away from work. It will be relaxing and profitable to mix business with pleasure as the week ends. Call me on my Sagittarian advice line 09065 504 342 to hear how you'll be tempted to splash out on luxury items that are really an unjustified extravagance! Get your priorities straight as early in the week as possible

Capricorn (Dec22-Jan20)
It has never been easy for you to show your emotions but you could be amazed at how therapeutic it is to express yourself verbally. It will also help you understand yourself better! Call me on my Capricorn advice line 09065 504 342 to hear why if you've never experienced the healing effects of sharing your heart and mind with a trusted friend you should open up now and ignore any doubts about regretting it later and say exactly what you're thinking.

Aquarius (Jan21-Feb19)
There is no telling when an offer you've turned down will be made again, if ever. You can't gamble on the same door opening up for you again. If you walk away from an opportunity and you later wish you hadn't, will it be easy to locate another key? Call me on my Aquarian advice line 09065 504 342 to hear why although you may feel the time is not right to launch a new venture, if it's important enough for you, somehow you will arrange your life to fit it in.

Pisces (Feb20-Mar20)
Some recent extravagance may have bitten rather deeply into your cash reserves and this could lead to rows and wrangles. Make an effort to stick to your budget this week at least! Call me on my Pisces line 09065 504 342 to hear why even if you're watching your weight, you can still enjoy partying and eating out this festive season. You don't have to eat everything on the menu or everything you're given and you could skip a course or two.

Don't leave your wallet open online – identity theft could catch you out

IN the wake of recent news stories, ID fraud is at the forefront of everyone's minds.

Credit report provider Callcredit is warning customers about the risks of giving fraudsters an early Christmas present by failing to protect their identity when shopping online this Christmas.

With more than 27 million people expected to buy over the Internet this Christmas, a 7million increase on last year, shoppers are expected to spend a record-breaking £14 billion on their online Christmas shopping, making them Europe's most Internet-obsessed consumers.

Callcredit warns that if people aren't careful with their identity this increase in spending could be matched by an increase in identity theft.

Owen Roberts, fraud expert at Callcredit said: "With the average Christmas spend level at £620 for individuals without children, consumers are using their credit cards on a more regular basis to help budget for it. Not only are consumers being left with a large financial hangover in the New Year, but they are putting themselves at greater risk of becoming victims of ID fraud. Unless consumers start to take some preventative steps the consequences could be very damaging.

"If you were shopping on the high street you wouldn't leave your wallet open and we advise that you don't do the same online. It is impossible to be 100 per cent safe from identity theft; fraudsters are always looking for new ways to commit fraud so it is essential that consumers are aware of how to protect themselves."

STOP ONLINE ID FRAUD TOP TIPS

Make sure Anti-Virus software is up-to-date
Check security and authenticity of websites
Don't broadcast your identity on the internet by failing to protect your PC
Make certain you are watching for warning signs by regularly checking your credit report through services such as www.mycallcredit.co.uk

Awards bring double delight for city college

MILTON Keynes College has beaten off competition from 120 colleges across the UK to win two prestigious awards.

The college was flying the flag for Milton Keynes at the Further Education First Awards and did the city proud by winning not one, but two first place awards for its Making MK Brighter student recruitment campaign, which featured the work of two of its graphic design students.

MK College students, Jen Norton and Brett Wilson attended the glittering ceremony in Coventry and were delighted to pick up the trophies. Jen, now studying at the University of Northampton, said: "I'm so proud to have won these awards. Being at Milton Keynes College was brilliant and winning just shows the amazing quality of work that the College is producing."

Brett Wilson, 27, a mature student added. "I joined college later than most and was a little wary about being a mature student, but Milton Keynes College has transformed my life for the better. I'm now at university and hope to start my own business when I graduate. Having these awards is a great boost to my career."

Marketing manager Chris Rice said: "It was a great night for Milton Keynes College and a proud moment for Milton Keynes."

The award is the College's sixth in the last 12 months and caps off an excellent year. Recruitment of full-time students has increased by 40 per cent in the last two years and the college has invested in two new buildings to cope with the increased demand.

Pinewood

Pinewood Structures is one of the UKs leading timber frame manufacturers and sub-contractors and hold an enviable position in the market. We operate out of facilities in rural south west Cambridgeshire within easy reach of Cambridge, Bedford and Stevenage. As part of our exciting growth plans and to support the new management team, we are seeking:

Commercial Manager

An experienced commercial manager from the construction sector to manage our estimating and pre-contract support team. You will have responsibility for a team of 9 people whose role is to maximize our profitability and assist the sales team by providing outstanding customer support at the pre-contract stage; delivering estimates on time and following up to ensure we secure new business. Ideally from a surveying background, as an experienced manager you will have practical knowledge of estimating procedures, be highly customer orientated, comfortable dealing with clients and able to manage and motivate a high performing team.

Senior Project Manager

An office based Project Manager responsible for projects ranging in value from £100k to £2 million across the UK. You will be responsible for the planning, organisation, direction, control and evaluation of construction projects from start to finish according to schedule, specifications and budget. You will be a team player, able to work on your own initiative, have clear communication skills, and be able to plan and manage resources to ensure projects meet contracted deadlines. You will be computer literate and ideally have experience of MS Project or similar. The role will involve attending pre-contract meetings with clients and liaising with architects, consultants, clients, suppliers and subcontractors to deliver all projects on time and in budget.

For both positions experience within the Timber Frame industry would be advantageous but not essential. The remuneration package for both positions will be commensurate with experience.

If you would like to work in an environment that offers challenge and career opportunities matched to your aspirations, please send your CV along with a covering note to: Margaret Stephenson by email at Margaret. stephenson@pinewood-structures.co.uk. Teachers Main Pay Scale
Required for January 2008

An enthusiastic teacher is required to teach Law at AS and A2 to our Post 16 students. This is a good opportunity for a qualified teacher returning to the profession after a career break.

Law is part of our successful Business & Enterprise Faculty. Every member of staff has their own laptop and all rooms have multi media data projectors. The college has a high quality professional development programme for all staff.

EXAM INVIGILATORS

Salary Level 1D, Points 7–10 (£6.37 per hour)
Required for December, January and Summer Examination Series
10 December 2007 to 29 June 2008

We have a number of vacancies for Exam Invigilators to help run and supervise the All Examination series at all levels in Key Stage 3/4 and Post 16. The successful candidates should be familiar with a school environment and be prepared to work on a flexible basis and as part of a team. A reliable, professional and punctual approach is required to enable our learners to feel comfortable in a highly pressured environment. Full training and guidance will be given.

Hastingsbury is a 13 – 19 multi-cultural community college situated on a pleasant suburban site to the south west of Bedford. Our recent Ofsted report (January 2007) noted many good features and identified "good teaching that excites and stimulates."

If you are interested in applying for one of these posts please contact Jan Gosnell at the college on (01234) 290900 or email: jangosnell@hastingsbury.beds.sch.uk for an application form and further details. The closing date for completed applications is Monday 17 December 2007. Information about the college is available at www.hastingsbury.beds.sch.uk

Hastingsbury is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children. In accordance with the Police Act 1997 all posts in schools are subject to disclosure of criminal records.

Highways Maintenance Operative (Street Lighting)

Salary £16,719 - £18,681
plus productivity bonus (performance based - currently up to 1/3 of salary) and standby and out of hours payments

The Civil Engineering Section is looking for suitably qualified and experienced Highways Maintenance Operatives to carry out a variety of lighting repair activities. The successful candidates will be responsible for the organisation of plant and materials in order to carry out day-to-day repairs of street lights in the Bedford area.

Duties will include the maintenance of street lighting, sign erection and the use of lorry mounted lifting equipment including abandoned vehicle removal, making safe street lighting accident damage, re-wiring, fault finding and lamp replacement. The complete replacement of lamp columns will also be required. You must therefore be able to drive and operate a variety of specialist equipment, or be able to demonstrate the ability to do so with training.

You will be required to undertake out of hours, standby and call out activities as part of your duties, for which you will receive additional payment. This is a full time post (37 hours), but part time or job share may be considered.

LGV Driver / Drainage Operative

Potential earnings for a 40.5 hour week are £372
plus standby payment

Employed in the Civil Engineering Section, you will be required to undertake all aspects of the work relating to drain clearance, cesspool emptying and gully cleaning, as well as other tasks associated with the drain clearance service. In particular the job will require an understanding of the procedures for emptying cesspools, cleaning roadside gullies and clearing drains. The ability to operate tanker, jetter and gully motor are desirable, although training can be provided. A current Class C (formerly LGV Class II) licence is essential.

You will be required to undertake out of hours, standby and call out activities as part of your duties, for which you will receive additional payment.

The Council is an Equal Opportunities Employer and positively welcomes applications from all members of the community irrespective of race, colour, gender, religious belief, sexual orientation, age and disability. Selection is on merit alone.

Closing Date: 17th December 2007.

For further information and an application form contact the Personnel Department, Town Hall, St. Paul's Square, Bedford, MK40 1SJ, Telephone: (01234) 221609, Textphone (Minicom): (01234) 221827, email: Sgadsby@bedford.gov.uk or download details at www.bedford.gov.uk

Trainee Technician

£14,492 - £19,463 p.a. on progression scheme

Are you interested in Highway and Traffic Engineering?

You will provide basic technical support for the Highway Engineering Team, which includes producing (under guidance) drawings and plans using AutoCAD and also assisting in developing highway and traffic projects.

With office experience you will also have communication, organisational, numeracy, literacy and keyboard skills. You must be able to follow procedures and guidelines and visit sites across the Borough. You will be involved in providing support for the preparation, design and site inspection of traffic management and highway projects. This post is in the Technician Progression Scheme with clearly set achievement targets for furthering your career.

Closing Date: 18 December 2007. Ref: 07/0678.

STONY STRATFORD AREA REVIEW

An area Review of all aspects of traffic management in Stony Stratford is being carried out as part of the MKC rolling programme of such Reviews.

In November 06 Milton Keynes Council held exhibitions to highlight possible improvements in areas where residents, members and user groups had highlighted concerns. Further to receiving feedback from the public, a package of schemes have been agreed with elected members and developed into formal proposals.

A public exhibition of Traffic Management and Road Safety Improvements is to be held at Stony Stratford Library on Thursday 6 December (between 9am and 5pm), Friday 7 December (between 9am and 8pm) and Saturday 8 December 2007 (between 9am and 1pm).

The exhibition will be fully staffed by Council Officers at all times.

Views on the proposals are requested and are to be received by Milton Keynes Council by Monday 4 January 2008.

What are the proposals?

- London Road will be subject to a traffic calming scheme throughout the full length. Vehicle speeds will be reduced by the use of central islands, mini-roundabouts, kerb build outs and white line hatching
- Church Street will see pedestrian safety improved by the use of a formal crossing close to the junction with High Street
- The High Street will become a one-way street (from Church Street leading to Wolverton Road). This will allow existing lengths of Double Yellow Lines to be removed and parking facilities to be both increased and improved.
- Assorted parking problems throughout the town will be addressed by the introduction of waiting restrictions and residents permit parking.

What happens after the consultation has ended?

After the consultation has ended, responses will be compiled and recommendations will be made depending on the outcomes of the consultation exercise. Subject to approval, works will be programmed to start early in 2008.

Drive the ultimate accessory

LADIES – there's a new car in town and it's the ultimate accessory.

Forget shoes, handbags, even clothes – the new-look Kia Picanto will ensure you get heads turning left, right and centre.

And, to ensure all beauty conscious drivers know how to look their best, Kia Motors (UK) Ltd has teamed up with make-artist Ruby Miller, who has excellent advice about looking beautiful behind the wheel.

Ruby said: "Looking great while driving can sometimes be a challenge. Unfortunately many women still make the faux pas of applying their make-up in the car.

"Apart from being a dangerous distraction while driving, it's really not becoming and car mirrors are very unflattering, meaning you will never look as good as if you had applied your make-up before getting behind the steering wheel.

"It's always hard to maintain a fresh look after driving, particularly if you have been on a long journey, but these top tips will definitely help women get out of the car looking decidedly less tired and dishevelled than they might otherwise."

Ruby's tips for beauty behind the wheel:

■ Turn down the heater – it dries your skin out which can highlight those wrinkles that you so cleverly hid before you first got into the car

■ Keep a skin spritzer to hand – great for refreshing make-up after a long journey and rehydrating skin to give a dewy appearance

■ Keep the window closed to avoid hair/lipgloss disasters

■ Have a powder compact to hand in the glove compartment – always good to blot the shine

■ Try and match you car colour to suit your skin tone – red doesn't suit redheads but blue looks better for olive skin tones

■ Oversized sunglasses – if all else fails, large sunglasses will add instant glamour, rain or shine, with the added advantage of blocking glare while you drive

Kia's advice on beauty for your car:

It's no good if you're looking fab and your car has been neglected. These simple tips from Kia Motors UK will ensure you're glowing inside and out:

■ Cleanse your car – there's nothing nicer than a clean, shiny car so don't forget to wash its skin at least once a week

■ Tone your windows – smeared windows are a no-no so make sure you clear away that residue

■ Be naturally beautiful – don't overload your car with too much clutter such as spoilers, fluffy dice and stickers. Natural is best!

The Kia Picanto starts at £5,995 and is available in the following models: Ice, the Ice auto, the Picanto, the Picanto 2, the Picanto 2 auto and the Picanto 3.

ACCRINGTON STANLEY
League Two
Saturday, December 8. KO 3pm
stadiummk

EVERYTHING was to play for when the Dons last hosted Accrington Stanley.

With a victory by three goals needed to give the Dons automatic promotion but they won 3-1 and Swindon's draw with Walsall sent them into the play-offs.

Last seasons meetings provided plenty of goals for spectators with Stanley narrowly losing 4-3 at home in another fiercely competitive game.

Accrington were favourite slip back down to the conference last year but they surprised many by finishing 14 points clear of relegation.

And this time round they are making a name for themselves with almost half of the points they accumulated in 2005-06 already in the bag.

Stanley will be without their skipper Peter Cavanagh who is recovering from a hernia operation.

With home forming dipping of late the Dons will want a convincing display to get their record at stadiummk back on track.

The Dons will also want to get back into their winning ways ahead of their vital clash with promotion rivals Peterborough United.

Danny Swailes and Keith Andrews are set to return to the side following their one-match suspenions after picking up five cautions.

Karl Evans will be the man in charge of the match, this season he has refereed 11 games and in the process he has handed out 20 yellow cards and dismissed one player.

■ THE Dons start their Berks and Bucks title defence at home to Maidenhead United on Tuesday, kick-off 7.45pm.

MK Dons Under-18's had their match at Cardiff postponed due to the heavy rainfall.

The reserves also had their home tie against Stevenage Borough postponed.

New dates for both rearranged fixtures have not yet been announced.

The Under-18's are back in action this Saturday when they host Tottenham Hotspur, kick-off is at 11am.

GARETH Edds has gone under the knife and is now expected to be out until March.

The Dons defender has been struggling with two ankle conditions and finally had surgery on the troublesome area last week.

Edds has made 10 appearances for the Dons this year and will have a cast on his foot for six weeks.

THE Dons Football in the Community are running FA Charter Standards course for boys and girls aged four years to 14 over the Christmas period.

Courses, which take place at the Dons training ground at Woughton-on-the-Green, include mini kickers, pro camp, 5-a-side football and tournament days with each participant who attends the full course awarded a free gift and an official certificate.

For any child that books onto the one-day course on Friday, December 21, they will automatically receive a free ticket for MK Dons vs Brentford that evening

Spurs in search of inspiration

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

OFFICIALS from Tottenham Hotspur have visited stadiummk for design inspiration.

MK Dons' impressive new stadium, which was officially opened by the Queen last week, has earned high praise from players and pundits and it would seem has got the football world talking.

So much so several Tottenham personnel made the short trip up north to have a look around the UEFA-four star stadium.

They made the journey with a view to taking some notes and ideas for a possible re-vamp of White Hart Lane or a new ground for Spurs elsewhere.

The Premier League side have made no secret that they want to improve facilities and increase its capacity for fans and although the Dons' top bowl is yet to be completed they were guided around by chairman Pete Winkelman.

He said: "We've been very pleased to welcome a number of Tottenham Hotspur's executive directors to stadiummk where we have been able to show them some of the unique aspects of the stadium development."

In particular the Tottenham guests along with Paul Philips, the man who led Arsenal's Emirates Stadium project, were impressed with the Dons' hi-tech season-ticket swipe card system.

The electrical system allows fans to swipe the bar code on the season-ticket on the turnstiles to gain access in the ground therefore limiting the amount of assistance needed from supervisors and stadium staff.

Mr Winkelman added: "Specific things they were interested in were our turnstile and access control systems, the stadium's open concourse which is similar to Benfica's but unique in the UK and the fact we'd used the same seats as Arsenal.

"Like the Emirates, our stadium has been designed by HOK, and we share with Tottenham a number of mutual consultants on the stadium development side for example Davis Langdon and Savills Hepher Dixon."

Since opening in July, stadiummk has hosted a number of successful events including an England Under-21 match and The Queens visit. The Dons have the second highest attendance for a League Two side with an average crowd of 8,518.

■ LAST week MK Dons revealed they had turned down Derby County's request to talk to manager Paul Ince.

The Dons number one had be touted as a possible replacement for Billy Davies who left after a turbulent start to life in the Premier League.

However, the Rams unveiled former Wigan boss Paul Jewell as their new manager and the Dons promptly revealed they had denied an approach from Derby.

A statement released by the club read: "It was the opinion of the board that the club's best interests would not be served by granting permission for an approach - a decision vindicated by Paul's desire to remain at stadiummk.

"With reference to continual speculation regarding Paul's future, the club would like to reiterate both Paul's ambition to achieve success in Milton Keynes and the club's determination to retain his services."

Derby chairman Adam Pearson told the Sunday Mirror Ince was in his plans but he only had one decision once it became clear Jewell was available.

He said: "Paul Ince will go on to be an inspirational manager at a big club. But when a manager like Paul Jewell becomes available there can be no other choice."

Month-long wait over as Carbon signs contract

MATT Carbon has finally signed for MK Dons.

The signing hit a month-long delay as the club waited for Carbon to be given international clearance due to his move to New Zealand Knights in 2006.

The veteran defender joined the side in the summer on a trail period featuring in the 0-0 draw against Watford at the start of August.

Carbon limped off after 40 minutes and suffered a further set back on his return when he was forced off in a reserve match against Norwich City.

But Paul Ince has kept faith with the 32-year-old and snapped him up on a two-month contract with a view to a long-term deal.

The former-West Brom centre-back will add further strength to the Dons back line which already includes Danny Swailes, Sean O'Hanlon, Drissa Diallo and on-loan Keiran Murphy.

PAUL MITCHELL WRITES FOR YOU

PAUL MITCHELL

A LOT has happened since my last column so it's difficult to know where to start!

Hopefully by the time this is printed we have got back to winning ways at Dagenham. I know how frustrated the boys were feeling after Chesterfield and with no game on Saturday that feeling would have only been brewing during the weekend's training sessions. Everyone will have been gearing up to get a result in the next fixture.

As a footballer, your season and life is mainly mapped out for you. With games coming thick and fast every Saturday it's a strange feeling when there's a free weekend. To be honest you feel lost on a weekend without a game. What it serves to do is reinstall that feeling of how much you will miss it when it's all over and how much you have to enjoy it while it's here.

With anything that you enjoy, you have to win and be successful. This is what I think the Gaffer has installed this year as the lads can't wait to get out there to train or play matches. The fierce competition within the squad is a credit to him and the team.

Day-in and day-out, whether it's a small five-a-side or the biggest game of the season, the players have the same mentality - play to win!

The secret, I'm afraid, is definitely out. We have one of the best young mangers in the country but I think everybody in MK already knew that. Once again there were links with the Gaffer and the Premiership the last week and it's a testament to the ambition of him, the Chairman and the club that he is still here.

This ambition was reinforced by the club hosting the Queen's visit last Thursday, which was a great day from everyone involved. It was a fantastic atmosphere in the stadium that day and the hairs on the back of the neck were up when we came out of the tunnel to such a fantastic atmosphere.

We now have to make sure that we get that kind of feeling around the stadium at all the home games. So let's start this Saturday and really get the roof lifted!

Cup that cheers for injury-hit Lightning

MK Lightning battled through their injury nightmares to remain unbeaten in the Knock Out Cup.

However, they did slip to a 3-1 defeat in the league at the hands of Chelmsford Chieftains.

Icing without player-coach Nick Poole, Ales Parez and Greg Randall left Lightning with a short bench and without three vital members of their side to take on Bracknell Bees.

But fans had no reason to panic as they stormed out of the blocks to score with just 31 seconds on the clock.

Gary Clarke started the move as he fed through to Toni Alasaarela who in turn set up Mikko Skinnari to blast home the opener.

The dream start got even better for Lightning as Skinnari added his second of the evening this time with Adam Carr the provider.

Yet, Lightning could not have it all their own way and Bracknell responded late in the first period with Michal Kanka taking advantage of the power play.

Lightning had a power play goal of their own seven minutes into the second period and having played his part in the first two goals it was only fair for Alasaarela to get his name on the score sheet.

Grant McPherson then found the back of the net to give Lightning a 4-1 lead before Matt Foord pulled one back for the Bees.

And just as it looked like the Bees could get back into the game McPherson hit the fifth of the evening minutes into the third period and Clarke bagged the final goal four minutes from time.

Lightning hit the net

The convincing display against Bracknell leaves Lightning topping the Knock Out league with six points and a game in hand.

But Lightning felt the full effects of their injuries in the second game of the weekend as they came unstuck against Chelmsford.

It was a tense first period with neither side giving much away and Chelmsford finally broke the deadlock in the second period to take a 1-0 lead into the final twenty minutes.

The narrow lead would have given MK plenty of reason to believe they could win the game and although Michael Wales bagged a goal in the final minute it was only a consolation as the Chieftains had already fired two more into the net.

■ LIGHTNING have just the one game this weekend at home to Romford Raiders on Saturday. Face-off is at 7pm.

BASKETBALL

Lions look to go top

TONIGHT MK Lions could move back to the top of the table if they beat London Capital.

Following a weekend without a game the Lions have slipped down to third place, although they are tied on points with Newcastle Eagles and Plymouth Raiders who occupy first and second place respectively.

Only Capital stand in their way of moving two points clear at the top.

However, the new boys have made a big impression as they sit in mid-tablex.

Having already met twice this year the two sides will be very familiar with one-an-other.

MK have won the two previous matches, the first on the opening day with a high scoring 115-94 falling in the Lions' favour, while their last meeting just over a week ago was a lot closer.

Capital fought tooth and nail in the final quarter to win but the Lions snatched it by a five point margin to knock the London side out of the BBL Cup.

Log-on to www.mk-news.co.uk on Thursday to read the match report.

■ TIP-OFF tonight is at 7.30pm at Bletchley Leisure Centre. On Friday the Lions visit Sheffield Sharks. Tip-off is at 7.30pm.

LOCAL RUGBY

Impressive Olney three points clear

OLNEY emphatically took the honours in the local derby as they trounced Buckingham 30-3.

Duncan Taylor, Olney's inside centre, was the first to get the scores on the board with a try, which was scored from quick hands through the backs from ten metres out.

Dave Smith missed the conversion but stepped up moments later to slot a penalty.

Buckingham responded with a penalty of their own to make it 8-3 at the half.

An impressive forward performance helped Olney to hit a purple patch with prop Dean Henrickson crossing the line following a driving maul.

In the final ten minutes Ian Bennett, George Stanton and Duncan Taylor ran in the tries to Olney keep three points clear at the top of the Southern Counties north division.

A NARROW win in difficult conditions helped MK move up to fifth place.

Another local derby saw MK travel to Aylesbury and seek a 7-3 win in a battling match.

MK's only score of the game came through David Matthews after he collected Phil Powell's neat pass to score under the posts, Andrew White converted.

But MK were dealt a blow when scrum-half Dafudd Bretherton was sin binned for dangerous play, which allowed Aylesbury chance to post some points.

They left it late with a drop goal just before the break narrowing the deficit to 7-3.

Neither side would give ground in the second half and following another bruising 40 minutes the scores remained the same and MK took the points.

BLETCHLEY are starting to push away from bottom place and are now up to eighth in the West Two east division.

Phil Harman was in inspired form at fly-half slotting three early penalties to give Bletchley a 9-0 lead over Windsor.

Seven minutes before the half Windsor's scrum-half went over the try line to pull five points back but Harman then kicked a perfect ball to centre Wahanui who ran in a reply try.

Windsor's number 8 then ran 25 metres to take half-time score to 16-12, points were more difficult to come by in the second half and following a Harman penalty Wahanui picked up a missed pass for his second try to give Bletchley a 24-12 win.

Diallo sinks the Daggers

Drissa no misser as Dons get back to their winning ways

Dagenham and Redbridge 0
MK Dons 1

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

DRISSA Diallo's solo goal against Dagenham and Redbridge helped MK Dons back to winning ways and restored their two point lead at the top of the table.

It was the Frenchman's second goal for the club and could prove vital as they continue to push for promotion.

A last-minute penalty save from the Daggers keeper stopped Lloyd Dyer getting his name on the score sheet.

A fiery, stop-start encounter with a few dubious refereeing decisions would not have made the first encounter between the two sides a memorable one.

But it was the kind of performance which keeps Paul Ince's side with a healthy lead ahead of a busy Christmas period.

Dagenham would have no doubt felt unlucky not to have taken a point after a battling performance.

The Daggers could and should have opened their account two minutes in with only the post denying them.

Paul Benson slipped past the Dons defence to collect a superb through ball yet his strike rattled the base of the near post before being scooped away.

With centre-back Danny Swailes missing through suspension, along with skipper Keith Andrews, the Dons defending was looking somewhat suspicious in the early periods and the Daggers were firing any time the goal was in sight.

Jon Nurse had one of the home sides decent chances when his header from Sam Sloma's cross was narrowly tipped away by Willy Gueret.

No mistake the Dons were up against it with their open field play being stifled and they were looking most dangerous with their set-plays.

And it was Lewington's perfect inswinging corner on 23 minutes with which created the opening goal.

Dons' Drissa Diallo heads home the winner against Dagenham & Redbridge last night Pic Dave Simpson

Diallo shook off his marker to make a sweet connection and head the ball past the Daggers' keeper.

The knock back did not stop Daggers in their push forward and Sloma was showing his threat on the dead ball with another precise delivery almost falling for the troublesome Nurse just before the break.

Following a dodgy opening the Dons were keeping a tight back line to limit Daggers' chances with substitute striker Chris Moore finding himself offside more often than not.

Chances were limited in the second-half although Lloyd Dyer wasted one of the better opportunities.

The electric winger had time and space in the box but opted for the volley from Mark Wright's cross instead which blazed well wide.

Leon Knight, on as a sub for Jemal Johnson, created one of the moves of the game 20 minutes from time when he played a deceiving ball down the left to Dyer who brushed aside Anwar Uddin before squaring it to Wright.

Unfortunately for the 428 travelling fans behind the goal Wright was immediately closed down to prevent a scoring opportunity.

At the other end Moore was left frustrated when he blew a fantastic chance to draw level when he knocked Jon Boardman's free-kick inches wide.

Minutes later there was panic in the Dons' box when a free-kick was never fully cleared and Scott Griffiths whipped the ball back in for Nurse to head against the bar from close range.

It was too close for comfort for the Dons and with time ticking away they were in need of a second to put the game out of reach.

Minutes from time Gueret pulled off a terrific stop to deny Dominic Green a thunderous equaliser.

Colin Cameron earned his side an injury time penalty when he was brought down just inside the area following a challenge by Boardman.

But Dyer's spot-kick was well saved by Tony Roberts who correctly dived to his left to deny Dons their second.
